Kathleen was born and raised in New York City, moving to Miller Place on Long Island after getting married. Kathleen lived in Grand Junction in 1978 for 13 years before moving to Cedaredge in 1991. She moved back to Grand Junction in 2000. Kathleen has two sons, three daughters and eight grandchildren who live in New York, Cedaredge and Grand Junction. Kathleen worked in sales at Cooks Jewelry and Herbergers in Grand Junction. She also owned and operated a window treatment business in Cedaredge making custom draperies and selling window coverings, which created a big joke in Cedaredge that she had been in every bedroom in town!

Kathleen enjoys reading and sewing for family and friends and says people are most interesting to her and she has learned so much from all kinds of people whether they were rich or poor, or held a PHD or a GED,

Kathleen has been on a few cruises, traveling from the Caribbean to Venezuela and eight other islands, as well as to Alaska. Kathleen visited Ireland in 1994 and in 2004 to visit relatives and tour the country.

Thank you, Kathleen for your upbeat,
Whatever It Takes attitude!
