

Volunteer Profile Martha Cesario

Martha Cesario returned as a volunteer on September 11, 2006. Previously, Martha volunteered in the Medical Records Department. She now works at the front reception desk and on special projects. Martha puts together patient guest books, which are given to patient guests who are admitted to the hospital. Martha also helps with the patient guests' bear bags.

Martha was born in the beautiful mountain town of Telluride and has many interesting stories to tell about life in a mining town. She lived in Alamosa for 25 years; in Moab for three years; and, at various times, in Grand Junction for about 20 years. Martha also spent over a year in Germany. Although widowed now, Martha and her husband raised one son and one daughter. She has been blessed with six grandchildren and currently has five great grandchildren.

Martha attended college for a year and has gained many work experiences over the years. The Elm Avenue Baptist Church has been blessed to have Martha as a member and she has given many hours of time helping out there. Martha is also a member of R.S.V.P. Aside from volunteering she has been a waitress, owned an asphalt company, and run the Rescue Mission Thrift Store. Martha says that "being a boss" was an interesting experience.

Martha enjoys reading as a pastime but her true love is her church and the mission trips she has been able to enjoy. She has traveled to India, Macedonia, France, Belgium, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Ecuador and Costa Rico. Her love of Africa has taken her back there 8 or 9 times.

We are happy to have Martha as a volunteer partner at Community Hospital and appreciate her willingness to serve where and when needed. Martha has given over 150 hours of service since rejoining our team.

Thank You, Martha for your
